Greatness

1. What is greatness?
2. What stands in the way of you and greatness?
3. What is a visionary? A visionary is someone who sees such a powerful vision that _____.

Learning Greatness. Learning To Be A Visionary

4. What if you could learn to be a visionary? What difference would that make in your life? (So what is at stake for you in this program?)
5. Do we “learn” just by understanding something? _____
6. How do we know when we’ve really learned something?
7. So how will you know when you are becoming a more powerful visionary?
8. What are 2 powerful strategies we can use to learn or evolve as you go through this program? (martial arts example)
 - a. Learn by _____.
 - i. Get on the _____.
 - ii. _____ every day.
 - b. Learn by building a new _____.

The One Map Trap

Note from Michael Skye:

“I am not here to give you a few tips or insights or tools as you continue on your current path, using your current map or puzzle of reality. And I am not here to give you a replacement map or puzzle that is The Way, The Truth or The Solution.

“The old puzzle or map that most of us have says that we are NOT visionaries by nature. I am simply offering to show you a map that shows YOU ARE A VISIONARY by nature. You can use this map to BE and LIVE as a visionary in life. And that can change EVERYTHING.”

Visionary Tool: Build Another Puzzle (map)

Why? Most people think they are open-minded and that they can really see other people’s points of view. Yet most people don’t. This tool can help you as a visionary when inquiring into new lines of thinking or venturing into new territory. Being able to really see things in new ways can help you share your vision, solve problems and be effective in the world.

How? As you learn a new skill, listen to another point of view or explore a new way of viewing something...

1. Notice how you want to take each piece of information and match it up to your existing knowledge puzzle to see if it fits.
2. Notice how you discard some pieces either because they don’t fit, or because you already have those pieces. (Maybe you say “I disagree,” and then you toss the puzzle piece. Maybe you say, “I agree,” and then you toss the puzzle piece. Either way, if you’re not careful, what you’ll end up with is the same puzzle you started with. What a waste!)
3. Instead, push your puzzle over and begin to build a new puzzle. Take each new piece of information and put it together as if you are building a whole new picture. Don’t discard any of the pieces. Keep looking for how they could fit.
4. Then compare the different puzzles. See the advantages and disadvantages of each. There is no need to discard either puzzle.

Are you ready to see your natural greatness? Are you ready to live as a visionary? Let's look at the new puzzle we've begun to build so far...

2. In the Creator Zone tele-workshop (week 1) we saw that

- a. We often approach success by trying to get ourselves to go beyond our comfort zone and take action. The success advice we hear is
 - i. Be courageous, disciplined, motivated, determined, passionate, etc.
 - ii. Think big, think positive, be a problem solver, etc.
 - iii. Get out of your comfort zone, work hard, etc.
- b. Visionaries naturally exhibit courage, discipline, motivation, determination and passion. Visionaries naturally think big, think positive, solve problems, etc. Visionaries naturally live outside their "comfort zones."

3. In the Force of Honor tele-workshop (week 2) we saw that

- a. We questioned our assumptions about human nature and self-guidance.
- b. We looked at the possibility of human beings have a distinctly human guidance system.
- c. We looked at the human feeling of Honor as a force that can have us overriding all of our animalistic pain/pleasure signal.
- d. We saw honor can move human beings into heroic action and greatness.
- e. We wondered... Could it be that human beings are naturally visionaries? Could it be that each of us are visionaries by nature?

Inquire Within:

Are YOU beginning to sense, perhaps more than ever before, that you are a visionary? Have you begun to feel, perhaps more than ever, your own call to greatness?

Is it natural to be a visionary?

4. Normal vs. Natural:

- 5. In the Force of Honor tele-workshop (week 1), we saw how we can look at how human beings behave irrationally and self-destructively. And we questioned the assumption that this is just the way we are.

Great Animal Analogy: Take away its natural guidance mechanisms and what happens??

Is this natural, or is the animal naturally another way? (How might this relate to human beings in life today?)

- 6. In the Creator Zone tele-workshop (week 2), we saw how we tend to drift back to comfort zone when it comes time to follow our big dreams.

Is this natural, or are we naturally another way?

If we are naturally visionaries, what is it that has us not following our biggest dreams, not seeing a vision so powerful that it moves us to heroic action?

7. Your Natural Process of Evolution Into A Visionary:

GUILT→HONOR

Look to Past: Feel HONOR→Look to Future: Feel HONOR

Notes: _____

How did we learn to BE responsible?

8. Is it NATURAL for human beings to follow the beaten path and obey?

- a. Why is it so difficult to get children to grow up to be good, obedient, responsible followers who follow the system?
- b. Has society's conditioning left us with unnatural methods of guidance and self-guidance that are in the way of our natural guidance?
- c. Has this conditioning left us with a weak and under developed s-guidance system?

9. Why then do we struggle to guide ourselves, create our own path and follow it?

- a. Is this struggle unnatural? Don't human beings have a unique power to solve unsolved problems, to create new solutions and paths down new roads?
- b. Consider this: just because children don't make all the best choices from the start, does this mean they need to be conditioned to follow? Or does this keep them forever trapped in follower mode, unable to be truly self-responsible and guide themselves?
- c. After living in a world that conditions us to follow, is it a wonder that leading ourselves successfully down our own new paths is a struggle?

Examples in the moment of decision: parent telling the child to do X

How does this conditioning still limit us today?

PREVIEW OF WEEK 4:

The power of the ICD is that it EXPOSES your conditioned path to compromise, and AWAKENS you to your natural call to greatness. In moments of conflict your mind feels pressure to choose... you can experience that pressure as a burden or as a call to greatness.
